ARCHITECTURAL EXPANSION AND REDEVELOPMENT IN
ST. ANDREWS, 1810-C.1894

Robin Dennis Alexander Evetts

Volume II (Figs. 1-141)

A Thesis Submitted for the Degree of PhD at the University of St. Andrews

1988

Full metadata for this item is available in the St Andrews Digital Research Repository
at:
https://research-repository.st-andrews.ac.uk/

Please use this identifier to cite or link to this item:
http://hdl.handle.net/10023/528

This item is protected by original copyright

This item is licensed under a
Creative Commons License
Architectural Expansion and Redevelopment in St. Andrews, 1810-c1894.

Volume II (figs.1-141)

Robin Dennis Alexander Evetts.

Submitted for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy,
Fig. 2. Aerial view of St. Andrews, c1975.
Fig. 3. Ordnance Survey map of St. Andrews, surveyed in 1854 and published in 1855.
Fig. 6. St. Mary's College, drawn by John Oliphant, 1767.
Fig. 7. St. Mary's College Survey Drawing; south elevation of north building and east elevation of west building, probably drawn in 1825.
Fig. 8. St. Mary's College Survey Drawing; north elevation of north building and west elevation of west building, probably drawn in 1825.
Fig. 9. St. Mary's College Survey Drawing; ground floor plan, probably drawn in 1825.
Fig. 10. St. Mary’s College Survey Drawing; first floor plan, probably drawn in 1825.
Fig. 11. St. Mary's College Survey Drawing; second floor plan, probably drawn in 1825.
Fig. 12. Perspective reconstruction of St. Salvator's College, as it may have appeared at the close of the mediaeval period. Drawn by R. G. Cant.
Fig. 13. The United College, drawn by John Oliphant, 1767.
Fig. 14. United College Survey Drawing no. 2; plan of the ground floors of the north and west buildings, probably drawn in 1825.
Fig. 15. United College Survey Drawing no.3; plan of the first floors of the north and west buildings, probably drawn in 1825.
Fig. 16. United College Survey Drawing no. 5; elevation of south side of north building, and east side of west building, probably drawn in 1825.
Fig. 17. United College Survey Drawing no. 7; elevation of south side of south building, probably drawn in 1825.
Fig. 18. United College, west building, from an unidentified paper negative, 1839-40.
Fig. 19. United College, north building, 1840s. The north west corner of Robert Reid's east wing is visible to the right.
Fig. 20. Robert Dundas, Second Viscount Melville, Chancellor of the University of St. Andrews, 1814-51. From a painting by Sir David Wilkie, 1830. The north wing of the United College shows Reid's unbuilt elevation.
Fig. 21. Perspective of Robert Reid's new United College. December 1829.
Fig. 22. Proposed south elevation of the north wing of Robert Reid's United College. December 1829.
Fig. 23. Proposed west elevation of the east wing of Robert Reid's United College. December 1829.
Fig. 24. Robert Reid's east wing of the United College (1829-31), and Gillespie and Scott's extension of 1904-06.
Fig. 25. Ground floor plan of William Nixon's 1844 proposals for the completion of the United College.
Fig. 26. First floor and general plan of William Nixon’s 1844 proposals for the completion of the United College.
Fig. 27. Modified ground-floor plan of William Nixon's 1844 proposals for the completion of the United College.
Fig. 28. Modified first floor plan of William Nixon's 1844 proposals for the completion of the United College.
Fig. 29. Perspective of William Nixon's 1844 proposals for the completion of the United College.
Fig. 30. William Nixon's north wing of the United College, erected 1845-46.
Fig. 31. Revised general plan of the United College; working drawing 13, 1845.
Fig. 32. South elevation of William Nixon's revised scheme for the United College; working drawing 7, 1845.
Fig. 33. Section of entrance portico of William Nixon's revised scheme for the United College; working drawing 11, 1845.
Fig. 34. North elevation of William Nixon’s revised scheme for the United College; working drawing 8, 1845.
Fig. 35. West and east elevations of William Nixon's revised scheme for the United College; working drawing 9, 1845.
Fig. 36. Plan of ceiling and east and west walls of the interior of the Great Hall in William Nixon's revised scheme for the United College; working drawing 17, 1845.
Fig. 37. Elevation of cloister, screen walls etc. of William Nixon’s second phase of work at the United College, 1846-48.
Fig. 38. North and east elevation of 'old house' of William Nixon's second phase of work at the United College, 1846-48.
Fig. 39. Repairs to the College Tower and erection of parapet. 1851-2.
Fig. 40. South elevation of St. Salvator’s Church and Tower, probably 1861-62.
Fig. 41. Robert Matheson's general ground plan of the United College, April 1851.
Fig. 42. Robert Matheson's south elevation of the United College, April 1851.
Fig. 43. East elevation of St. Mary's College, showing Robert Reid's reconstruction proposals, dated April 1829.
Fig. 44. St. Mary's College as reconstructed by Robert Reid, 1829-30.
Fig. 45. Ground floor plan of St. Mary's College showing Robert Reid's reconstruction proposals, dated June 1829.
Fig. 46. First floor plan of St. Mary’s College (marked second floor) showing Robert Reid’s reconstruction proposals, dated June 1829.
Fig. 47. South elevation of the Principal’s House, showing Robert Reid’s reconstruction proposals, dated May 1830.
Fig. 48. Ground floor plan of the Principal's House, showing Robert Reid's reconstruction proposals, dated April 1830.
Fig. 49. St. Mary's College, photographed by Hill and Adamson in 1847.
Fig. 50. University Library and Principal’s House, north elevation of Robert Reid’s proposed extension, January 1827.
Fig. 51. University Library as reconstructed by John Gardner, 1764–67, drawn by John Oliphant, 1767.
Fig. 52. University Library and Principal's House; plan of the first floor of Robert Reid's proposed extension, January 1827.
Fig. 53. Aquatint of the Madras College, 1838.
Fig. 54. South elevation of William Burn's Episcopal Chapel, North Street, in 1841.
Fig. 55. South and east elevation of William Burn's Episcopal Chapel, North Street, dated 1824.
Fig. 56. Plan of William Burn's Episcopal Chapel, North Street, dated 1824.
Fig. 57. The Madras College; plan of ground floor, drawing 3.
Fig. 58. The Madras College; north elevation, drawing 5.
Fig. 59. The Madras College; section through main building looking north, drawing 9.
Fig. 60. The Madras College; plan of foundations showing hot air ducts, drawing 2.
Fig. 61. The Madras College; south elevation of main block, drawing 7.
Fig. 62. The Madras College; east elevation, drawing 6.
Fig. 63. The Madras College; section through east elevation, drawing 10.
Fig. 64. The Madras College; south elevation of south block, drawing 8.
Fig. 65. Drawing of the Blackfriars' Chapel and the building known as the 'Old Palace' in the late eighteenth century, by John Cook.
Fig. 66. The Blackfriars’ Chapel and the Grammar School, in Francis Grose’s Antiquities of Scotland, 1789-91.
Fig. 67. Gillespie and Scott's plan of the site of the Madras College, 1887.
Fig. 68. Specifications for desks, and hat and cloak racks at the Madras College, John McCulloch and James Berwick, 1833.
Fig. 69. Ground floor plan of William Burn's original proposals for the eastern masters' house.
Fig. 70. North and south elevations of William Burn's original proposals for the eastern masters' house.
Fig. 71. West elevation of William Burn's original proposals for the eastern masters' house.
Fig. 72. Floor plan of eastern masters' house drawn by Gillespie and Scott, 1927. Boys' school room and south western bedroom added by David Henry in 1890.
Fig. 73. Floor plan of western masters’ house and porter’s lodge, drawn by Gillespie and Scott, 1927.
Fig. 74. South elevation of western masters' house.
Fig. 75. North elevation of eastern masters’ house.
MADRAS COLLEGE

CLASSICAL MASTER'S HOUSE

Fig. 76. David Henry's west elevation of the eastern masters' house, 1889-90.

-WEST - ELEVATION -
Fig. 77. David Henry's ground floor plan of the eastern masters' house, 1889-90.
Fig. 78. William Burn’s proposals for an entrance lodge, 28th February 1834; south and west elevations, section, and plan of roof.
Fig. 79. William Burn's proposals for an entrance lodge, 28th February 1834; north elevation and plan.
Fig. 80. William Burn's proposals for an entrance lodge, 1st April 1834; south and west elevations, section, and plan of roof.
Fig. 81. William Burn's proposals for an entrance lodge, 1st April 1834; north and east elevation, and plan.
Fig. 82. Line drawing from Lyon's History of St. Andrews (1838), showing the erection of the railings, and the lower masonry of the north window having been removed.
Fig. 83. Blackfriars’ Chapel in 1846, showing the restored tracery of the north window and the enclosing iron railing.
Fig. 84. William Burn’s plan of the privies for boys, 23rd June 1834.
Fig. 85. William Burn’s plan of the privies for girls, 23rd June 1834.
Fig. 86. William Wilkins' Dalmeny House, West Lothian, 1815.
Fig. 87. East Barsham Manor, Norfolk.
Fig. 88. William Burn's Drumfinn, 1825; south and north elevations.
Fig. 89. William Burn's Duplin, 1828; south elevation.
Fig. 90. William Burn's St. Fort, 1829; south elevation.
Fig. 91. William Burn’s Whitehill, 1839-44; south elevation.
Fig. 92. William Burn’s sketch for Muckross Abbey, County Kerry, 1839-43.
Fig. 93. Argyll’s Lodging, Stirling, 1632.
Fig. 94. George Heriot’s Hospital, Edinburgh, begun 1641.
Fig. 95. Courtyard at the Palace of Holyroodhouse, Sir William Bruce, 1671.
Fig. 96. South front of Hatfield House, Hertfordshire, 1611.
Fig. 97. Entrance Porch, south front of Hatfield House, Hertfordshire, 1611.
Fig. 98. 77-79 Market Street, George Rae, 1852.
Fig. 99. Abbey Villas, Abbey Walk, John Milne, 1852.
Fig. 100. Bute Medical Building, Gillespie and Scott, 1898.
Fig. 102. Gables and other ornament illustrated by David Bryce in his 'Sketches of Scotch and Old English Ornament', 1832.
Fig. 103. Door and window pediments illustrated by David Bryce in his 'Sketches of Scotch and Old English Ornament', 1832.
Fig. 104. Section of 1974 Ordnance Survey map of St. Andrews, showing the 'new town'.
Fig. 105. Nos. 12, 11, 10, 9 and 8 North Bell Street, erected 1838-39.
Fig. 106. No. 17 North Bell Street, erected 1843-44. George Rae.
Fig. 107. Chestney House, no. 1 North Bell Street.
Fig. 108. Albert Buildings, 111-125 South Street, erected 1844, William Scott.
Fig. 109. 111-125 South Street before demolition.
Fig. 110. The builder John Kennedy on the site of Albert Buildings, 111-125 South Street, 1844.
Fig. 111. Nos. 165 South Street and 24-32 South Bell Street, George Rae, 1847 (shopfront renewed by David Henry in 1905). Nos. 14-22 South Bell Street, George Rae, 1858.
Fig. 112. South Bell Street c.1910, showing George Rae's original elevation, and the garden on the unbuilt portion of the west side; the Congregational Church (Andrew Kerr, 1854); and shop for George Lorimer (Hall and Henry 1877) on the east side.
Fig. 113. Nos. 165 South Street and 24-32 South Bell Street, George Rae, 1847.
Fig. 114. No. 3 South Bell Street, George Rae, c1854, showing the similarity of the upper floors with 165 South Street (fig. 111).
Fig. 115. North and west elevations of William Burn’s St. Mary’s Church, St. Mary’s Place, 1839.
Fig. 116. West Infant School (William Nixon, 1844) c1860, showing the gardens of North Bell Street (Greyfriars’ Garden); part of the garden of West Park; the rear elevation of 2, 3 and 4 Hope Street (John Henderson, 1850); and Playfair Terrace (George Rae, 1847-50).
Fig. 117. Nos. 7-12 Alexandra Place, attributed to George Rae, c1863.
Fig. 118. Nos. 3-6 Alexandra Place, Hall and Henry, 1869-70, and 7 and 8 Alexandra Place, attributed to George Rae, c1863.
Fig. 119. Portico at 9 Golf Place.
Fig. 120. Nos. 5, 6 and 7 Pilmour Place, after the style of Robert Balfour, c1836.
Fig. 121. Southern extension to Rusack's Marine Hotel under construction in 1891, David Henry.
Fig. 122. Feuing Plan of Hope Park, assumed to be a copy of John Henderson's original plan, showing stances 4 and 5 Abbotsford Crescent and 2-6 Hope Street (shaded) as built by 1850, and stances 1-3, and 11-13 Abbotsford Crescent modified by John Chesser (with actual houses designed by Hall and Henry, and John Lessels respectively.
Fig.123. Front and rear elevations of 4 Hope Street, John Henderson, c1847.
Fig. 124. Front elevation of Lockhart Place, attributed to George Rae, 1850, but could be earlier.
Fig. 125. Side elevation of Lockhart Place, attributed to George Rae, 1850, but could be earlier.
Fig. 126. Proposed elevation for the completion of Hope Street, John Chesser, 1864, showing the five houses already erected to John Henderson's elevation in 1850. Annotated 'the elevation of Howard Place is to be the same as the ten southernmost houses on this plan'.
Fig. 127. Hope Park Church, Peddie and Kinnear, erected 1864, photographed c1865. The hall was reconstructed and enlarged in 1899 by Gillespie and Scott.
Fig. 128. Proposed elevation to 12 Hope Street (also probably to no. 11) by Henry Bruce, dated July 1876, similar to Chesser's 1864 elevation; both elevations ultimately supplanted by Henderson's original c1847 design.
Fig. 129. Plan of the basement of 12 Hope Street, Henry Bruce, 1876.
Fig. 130. Plan of the ground floor of 12 Hope Street, Henry Bruce, 1876.
Fig. 131. Plan of the first floor of 12 Hope Street, Henry Bruce, 1876.
Fig. 132. Plan of the attic floor of 12 Hope Street, Henry Bruce, 1876.
Fig. 133. Proposed elevation to 13 and 14 Hope Street, Henry Bruce, July 1879, similar to Chesser's 1864 elevation; both elevations ultimately supplanted by Henderson's original c1847 design.
Fig. 134. Abbotsford House, erected 1869-70, John Lessels.
Fig. 135. Stances 9-11 Abbotsford Crescent (nos. 10 and 11), erected 1869-70, John Lessels.
Fig. 136. No. 2 Abbotsford Crescent (stance 3), erected 1873-77, showing a portion of no. 3 in its original 2 storey height to the west, and part of Chattan House (erected 1873-77) to the east. Professor W. C. McIntosh, son of John McIntosh, builder lived in this house.
Fig. 137. Abbotsford Place, erected 1870.
Fig. 138. Howard Place, erected from 1864, John Chesser.
Fig. 139. John Chesser's Bellevue Place, Edinburgh.
Fig. 140. Elevation for railings and dormer windows for stance 6 Howard Place, John Chesser, 1874. Railing specified to be 'No. 42, Book of Castings, McFarlane's Saracen Foundry, Glasgow'.
Fig. 141. Elevation of stances 7, 8/9, and part of 10/11 Howard Place (nos.7-11), Gillespie and Scott, 1898, 1898, and 1897 respectively.